

Emily Clarke, BSc (Hons), MCSP

Specialist Physiotherapist in AxSpA

Emily is Physiotherapist specialising in musculoskeletal health and Axial Spondyloarthritis and a member of the AStretch committee. Emily has specialised in Rheumatology for the last 10 years, and until recently, worked at the Royal National Hospital for Rheumatic Diseases in Bath delivering the residential self-management programme for axial SpA patients.

Emily has co-authored publications on sleep in axial SpA and is a collaborator in axial SpA research with the University of Bath.