

Dr Dale Webb

Dale has been CEO of NASS since November 2017. He began his career in public health / health promotion, and then moved into health services research. He has an MSc and PhD in health policy. Dale has worked in senior leadership charity roles for almost 20 years. At NASS, Dale has overall responsibility for the leadership and management of the organisation. He works with Parliamentarians, policy makers, funders, service commissioners and professional bodies in order to raise awareness, raise funds and ensure that people with axial SpA get earlier diagnosis and access to effective treatment and care. Dale created the Aspiring to Excellence and A Gold Standard Time to Diagnosis programmes. You can follow him on Twitter @NASSchiefexec.
